Board of Education Comments

- Board Member Ryan thanked the presenters and the staff members for attending and asked about the effectiveness/progress of the social/emotional learning component, whether there was any compromise on education, whether there was in the change in incidences of bullying, and whether students seemed more emotionally fragile today.

Responses from Mrs. Sauter, Mrs. Young, and Mrs. Schneider, elementary principals were: that the schools were providing a better and more positive learning environment; SEL is integrated into the curriculum; knowledge of family life helps in teaching the whole child; bullying is really conflict; students need to feel safe and secure; students are more socially aware now and more willing to share with social worker or adult.

- Board Member Gallagher noted that DASA provided the opportunity to create better and more uniform procedures.

Mr. Weiss said that it was discovered that the District procedures were fairly consistent and were now being clarified.

- Board Member Mininsky asked about the climate survey and its impact. Mr. DeVito discussed that students feel safe and supported by staff but works need to be done with other students, transition years are difficult and that there will be a work session on the climate survey.
- Board Member Gallagher asked how the District received the SUSS grant and talked about training, DASA coordinators in each school, the anti-bullying club and the peer leaders who are more senior students training underclasspersons.

Vice Principal Newman explained that contacts from her previous position helped her in obtaining the grant. Dr. Passi mentioned the peer leaders who are providing a more positive role in the climate of the school.

IV. President Lester called for Questions and Comments from the Public on Agenda Items Only.

Questions and Comments from the Public

- Ari Pine – 159 Magnolia Blvd – asked about statistical evidence on the effectiveness of the program, the measurement of the program on a continuing basis, and whether students were learning actual strategies or merely using others to help them.

Mr. Weiss explained that the programs were new, but research studies indicate that social/emotional learning has a major effect on academic performance. Social Workers Agresta and Durnan talked about community involvement and the goal of having students intervene and that they were learning life skills and internalizing strategies. Dr. Natali explained that there were no bystanders – only “upstanders” – who go to a trusted adult; telling vs. tattling to help a friend, and if you see something, say something.
